NOHA Introduces Respect in Sport Parents Program

At the NOHA Summit Chapter One hosted in Sudbury this past August, one of the outcomes recommended by the membership of the NOHA was to provide an education program for hockey parents. We are pleased to announce that we will offer the Respect in Sports Parents Program to its membership.

The one-hour online module reinforces a parents role in a child's activities, encouraging positive sport behaviours, and providing insight into the various roles other individuals (such as Coaches and Officials) play. This program empowers parents to ensure the safety of their children, encourage positive and effective communication, and to enhance a child's fun and camaraderie of the activity.

"The NOHA's number one priority is providing a safe and fun environment for our players," said NOHA President Bryce Kulik. "The partnership with Respect in Sport will help us promote our values by educating and supporting all levels of involvement, parents included."

To access the module, visit <https://noharent.respectgroupinc.com>. For further information on the Parents Program, see the Parents Program link on the NOHA website (www.noha.on.ca).
